

2-DAY DOGRI CONFERENCE TO COMMENCE IN DECEMBER

JAMMU, NOVEMBER, 26, 2012

J&K Academy of Art, Culture and Languages is organising a 2-day Conference on 'Dogri Language: Challenges & Opportunities' in December this year during which experts and scholars will read out research papers and deliberate on issues related to Dogri language ranging from literature, film media, journalism, and cyber era.

Prominent Dogri writer, Prof. Lalit Magotra will deliver the keynote address even as Mr. DK Vaid will read out the theme paper of the Conference. Others who will present their papers during the Conference include Prof. Veena Gupta, Dr. Om Goswami, Prof. Champa Sharma, Mr. Prakash Premi, Sh. Mohan Singh, Prof. Shashi Pathania, Dr. Nirmal Vinod, and Dr. Lalit Gupta.

Prominent writers of Dogri language from within and outside state will attend the Conference as observers.

Each paper reading will be followed by an open-house discussion and question-answer session. The Conference will have a Dogri mushaira as the concluding event in which noted poets will participate.
